SIDEWALK NOTES.

—Mr. Al Brunk desires a 2:50 horse.

—The Jewish passover this year will fall on the 14th.

—Tambourine is seizing many of the amateur associations through the country.

—A half dozen trotting horses are being handled at the track.

—Base ball is reviving as the season advances.

—Yesterday the weather was bad for flying birds.

—The thunder storm of yesterday compelled people to remain in doors.

—Cupped horses are all the fashion these days.

—The base ball stock market has a good deal of life in it yet.

—The wholesale merchants are selling plenty of goods of the country trade.

—The men are commencing to put out their flowers and plants in their gardens.

—Atlanta has several flouring mills in successful operation.

—The sale of oil paintings will continue this evening at Hall & Morris's auction rooms, corner of Broad and Marietta streets.

—The fruit crop is injured in a good many portions of the country by the cold weather.

—Fulton county farmers are among the most independent to be found in any portion of the state.

—Mr. Appleby, of Savannah, passed through the city yesterday with his carriage of stock route to the seaboard.

—The farmers of this section are bringing into the city daily hundreds of heads of sitting hens.

—The Atlanta justices of the peace had a quiet time of it yesterday. Nothing was done in the criminal line, and only one or two civil cases were disposed of.

—The passenger agents say that travel is getting very brisk, especially eastward. Eastern travel has fallen off considerably with the season.

—The north Georgia road.

Some Information in regard to its Progress.

EDITION CONSTITUTION—I notice an article in this morning's paper on "The North Georgia Road" and I have some knowledge of the country through which this road is to pass, and of the vast benefits to Georgia, and especially to Atlanta, that will result from the completion of this road to Murphy. I wish to state a few facts in my possession.

—The council of Charlotte has passed an ordinance prohibiting the lighting of chickens within the corporate limits of the city. If now costs a man $25 to have a dispute in court.

—The last chance to obtain one of those beautiful oil paintings, now exhibiting at No. 29 Whitehall street, will be given this evening. This is positively the last night, as every painting will be sold at a price to close out.

—Will the city authorities ever have good sewerage along Whitehall street crossing the depot and back of the stores on the east side of Alabama street?

—Never.

—Well, hardly ever.

—It is now definitely known that the 18th instant will be the day when the Dakota territory will be opened the 18th of April, and that a portion of the 18th will be given to the new station in Texas, will be ordered to this day, and the remainder of the company, Williams, of the 18th, will remain at this time.

The United States Circuit Court.

NON. 2. BOSTON, JUDGE, PERTHINS.

The United States circuit court was in session yesterday, with Hon. W. D. Brewster, and the defendant, and transacted the following business.

United States vs. J. W. Smith, charged with working in an illicit distillery. Tried and the defendant found guilty. Sentenced to serve the term of five months' imprisonment in Folsom Prison, and to pay a fine of $100. Robert Smith, charged with concealing a quantity of liquor made by illicit distillers. The evidence and arguments of the parties, and the case submitted to a jury, who had failed to agree at the time of adjournment.

Two other cases were tried, in which the defendant was charged with distilling illicit spirits, were found not guilty, and discharged from custody.

The court then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

Stricken with Paroxysm.

Special dispatch to the Constitution.

Brev. Dr. J. C. Pratt, an elderly Presbyterian divine, was yesterday stricken with paroxysm, and lying critically ill at his home, in Roswell, Ga.

"Suppose you found a burglar in your house at night. What would you do?" asked a reporter of H. W. Beecher the other day. "Send him quick as lightning!" exclaimed H. W. Beecher, who was a young, active-going person, having appeared on the stage at frequent times. "In general he is a man who we met yesterday, who knew Curry, we learn that he is regarded as the burglar of the town of Marshall, Texas.

The cowardly number of Mr. C. P. Conner, the actor, which occurred at Marshall, the day before yesterday, in which a burglar was in your home, and you have to call the police, is a case of the most serious nature, and the most sacred duty he owes to the community.
